Website operation and hosting

The website provides information about our services. Hosting is provided directly by the website operator, without an external hosting provider. The website does not use cookies or other visitor tracking technologies and does not retain information about visits.

When a page is loaded, the IP address and technical request data are processed only to the extent necessary to deliver content to your browser. This data is not retained in access logs. The legal basis is our legitimate interest in ensuring that the website functions properly under Article 6(1)(f) of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Contact by email

If you contact us by email, we process your email address and the information contained in your message to handle your request. For enquiries about our services, the legal basis is taking steps at your request prior to entering into a contract under Article 6(1)(b) GDPR. For other enquiries, the legal basis is our legitimate interest in handling correspondence under Article 6(1)(f) GDPR.

Providing personal data is voluntary, but we cannot reply without the necessary contact information. We retain the data for as long as necessary to handle your request and related follow-up correspondence. If a contract is concluded, we continue to process the necessary data to perform the contract, comply with legal obligations and, where applicable, protect legal claims, for the periods determined by the relevant statutory retention periods, warranty periods and limitation periods.

Your rights

Subject to the conditions set out in the GDPR, you have the right to access your personal data and obtain a copy, and to request rectification, erasure or restriction of processing. The right to data portability applies where processing is carried out by automated means and is based on consent or a contract.

You may object to processing based on legitimate interests on grounds relating to your particular situation. In that case, we will stop processing unless we demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds that override your interests and rights, or grounds for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

You may send requests to info@rv-soft.net or to our registered office. We will inform you of the action taken without undue delay and no later than one month after receiving your request. Where the law permits an extension, we will notify you within the first month of the extension and the reasons for it.
